Buy at Home Campaign Cry

We have very frequently made use of our columns in advocating home buying. Trying to impress upon our readers in our own humble way, the obligations which they owe to the community in which they live. One of the chief obligations is to patronize home institutions. Do not send to Winnipeg, Toronto or to other eastern cities for goods which can be purchased in your home town. Some good practical advice on this matter is given by Tom Richardson, Lethbridge's big booster, and is published in the Lethbridge Daily Herald of Friday last, from which we deem it opportune to clip the following and trust that the advice will be practised by all our citizens:

"This almost criminal habit of sending away to mail order houses for your goods is one that must be stopped. It strikes at the roots of an city's success, and will kill the growth of any city quicker than almost anything you can name. It is perilling the business of your merchants. It cost this city last year an incredible amount of money. It would stagger you if the amount were known. And this thing of patronizing the mail order houses of the east is nothing but a habit. The women forget how to shop when they do this. And some of the business men are just as bad. You business men are criminals if you do not trade in your own city. I have seen cities ruined by the self same patronage of mail order houses in preference to your local merchants. Would you believe it if I told you that it was that and nothing else that brought Baltimore to a standstill? In our first big meeting there I went after the chairman because he was wearing a suit made by some big New York firm, and told him to 'get the habit of doing your shopping in your own city. Franch it everywhere. Why should you build up Toronto or Montreal or Winnipeg to the detriment of the community that puts the bread and butter into your mouth? Get the preachers of the city to preach it. They couldn't preach a better religion than one which builds up the community in which they work.'"

"The straight with your own merchants. The community at large must help them in this one way at least. People will get better satisfaction in dealing at home, and will get out of the habit of buying what they don't need."

A brick plant is being erected at Sandstone, twenty miles south of Calgary. This plant will be completed by July 1st and will have a capacity of 500,000 bricks a week. F. Prendergast, of Blairmore, is manager of the works.

Happenings in and Around Bellevue

We regret to report that Mrs. Carter has been taken ill.

J. J. Walters has gone East to join his wife in a few weeks holiday.

Alex. Cameron had to appear in court on Saturday for carelessly driving a horse. $1 and $2 costs were paid.

Two Slavs were up before Justice Gresham on Saturday for being drunk and disorderly. They were each fined $5 and costs.

The service in the church Sunday night was most enjoyable. Fred Paget took part with credit to himself. Everybody invited next Sunday night.

From news to hand we learn that Mr. Holroy and W. H. Holroy have arrived at St. John on their way to England. It is reported that the senior has an affection of the heart. What about W. H.?

The school board trustees held a meeting on Friday night and went into the question of the new school thoroughly. The plans are to hand and these were examined, one or two alterations such as the addition of fire escape from the second storey window etc. were suggested and it was decided to proceed by regular methods cautiously yet quickly.

W. Ryan was up before Justice Belcher and Gresham on Saturday last to answer two charges which were brought against him. One was for assault at Passburg and the other for cruelty to animals. He was found guilty of both charges and for the first offence he was sentenced to 30 days in jail and $25.00 and for the second offence he was asked to pay into the exchequer the sum of $27.00, failing this he would be allowed two months free board at Macleod. He paid the fines.

The football match between married and single men on Monday Arbor day, was watched by nearly all the people of the town. The result was decidedly in favor of the single men who scored 6 "single" goals. The married men scored 2 "double goals" so the result is 6-4. There is a question whether each of the married men's goals should not count three, for nearly all have families of more than two to support and if the question is answered in the affirmative the result is a draw. The brothers Dugdale will make a splendid back defense for the league team. Fisher's work in goal promises well for a no goal average against Bellevue.

The football committee met last week and resolved upon reporting progress. A match was arranged for May day between the married and single men and three balls were ordered for league work. In spite of the bad conditions which have prevailed here for months, there is abundant material for a good team and everyone looks forward to a successful sporting season.

The officers of the Association in Bellevue for the ensuing year are: J. Lindsay, pres; Joseph Robertson, Secy.; A. Paget, Treas.; and the committee, E. Copland, G. Hateman, H. Campbell, J. Ellison, F. Chappell and Rev. T. D. Jones.

The presidency will be well filled by J. Lindsay. He is known all through the Pass and is acquainted with all the ropes of league work.

Donald Reid, aged 23 years, and George Lewis, aged 17 years escaped from the Mounted Police barracks, at Lethbridge, on Sunday morning and have not yet been found.

Shiloh's Cure
Solely stands on its own merits. Cures the throat and lungs. 25 cents

Because his latest play, "The Confession," has brought a death threat from a man in Montreal, Playwright Hal Reid has obtained permission to carry a revolver.

Blickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup needs no recommendation. To all who are familiar with it, it speaks for itself. It is in the treatment of colds and coughs and all affections of the throat and lungs. It has been given its place among the very best medicines for such diseases. You give it a trial you will not regret it. It will cost you 25 cents.

Counsel for the defendant in a criminal case had made an eloquent speech, bringing tears to the eyes of many present in court; but the jury, composed of hard-headed old countrymen on whose ears oratory and sentiment fall like snowflakes on a warm chimney, were unmoved. Counsel for the prosecution, rising to reply, took the measure at a glance.
"Gentlemen," he said, "let it be understood to begin with that I am not boring for water!"

For Skin Sufferers

If you, or someone dear to you, have undergone the itching, burning, sleep-destroying torments of eczema or other cruel skin eruption and have suffered from its embarrassing, unsightly, disfigurement; if you have tried all manner of treatment, no matter how harsh, to no avail, and have all but given up hope of cure, you can appreciate what it means to thousands of skin-tormented sufferers, from infancy to age, when the first warm bath with Cuticura Soap and gentle application of Cuticura Ointment brings instant relief, permits rest and sleep, and proves the first step in a speedy and successful treatment.

THE BROWN DOG.

Removal of Famous Bronze Figure that Inspired Many Fights.

The famous figure of the brown dog has been taken from the fountain in Battersea, Eng. It created a sensation while it was there and was the cause of a great many encounters between the police and its friends and enemies. The brown dog was a bronze and stood on a granite fountain in a prominent place. The inscription on the fountain sufficiently explains why the brown dog was a source of war and its removal.

"In memory of the brown terrier dog done to death in the laboratories of the University College in February, 1903, after having endured vivisection extending over more than two months and having been handed over from one vivisector to another until death came to its release. Also in memory of the 22 dogs vivisectioned at the same place during the year 1902. Men and women of England, how long shall these things last?"

The friends of the young doctors tried to tear down the figure, the anti-vivisectionists, fought for its preservation. The police were called in to keep the peace. Finally the Battersea Common Council had the figure removed.

Most Effective.
A well-known and popular bishop often relates with great gusto the following little episode.

"Many years ago," he says, "in the earlier days of my ministry, when in charge of a small parish in a northern county, I was much vexed during the Sunday services at the somnolent propensities of the majority of my small congregation."

"Rubrics and proofs were of little avail. At last I decided to try a new and perhaps unique course of action. I ordered that after noon in the depth of winter; and after all, as usual, found asleep soon after the service. I then called my discourse I carefully lowered my voice until presently it became a mere whisper, and then ceased altogether. Then, noiselessly, I quit the pulpit; and after disrobing stealthily stole out, quietly closed the door after me, and left my unconscious hearers alone in their glory."

"What they did when they presently awoke, and found the service concluded and themselves in derision, I know not, but the drastic method of procedure proved satisfactory, for sleepers were rare afterwards."

A Popular Ambassador.
American like Mr. Bryce, the British Ambassador in Washington, who has come in for some criticism on account of his attitude on the question of reciprocity between the States and Canada, because there is no "side" on him. A visitor called on him one Sunday morning, and Mr. Bryce met him in the hall and begged him to "come this way, where we can talk undisturbed." He led the way to the library, and the first thing he did was to take out a well-worn tobacco pouch and blackened briar pipe, which he proceeded to fill and smoke. Mr. Bryce, although a diplomat and banker, was a "rough."

He was the first Englishman to climb Mount Ararat, and has been president of the Alpine Club. It was once said of him that "he walks down Whitehall at the pace of a man who has left a roll of bank notes in the smoking room of his hotel." His knowledge of books is such that he was once described in the House of Commons as "a walking encyclopedia."

A Famous Inn.
The historic house of Cairndon Inn, Lochylethead, is no longer to be used as an inn, and general regret is felt throughout the district as the inhabitants were proud of the ancient house of refreshment, which has existed for several centuries. The older part of the present building formed the inn in 1460, and Prince Charlie took dinner in one of the rooms, when he paid a hurried visit to Ardglass, in the hope that the laird would obtain his standard. An old tree still called Prince Charlie stands in the grounds of Ardglass House. Here the Prince waited, tradition says, while a messenger went to the house, endeavoring to obtain an audience of the laird.

An Airboat.
The aeroplane is an airboat rather than a flying machine. The only action of the bird that it imitates is the one of soaring. It has the same sense in that a boat floats or a duck swims. With the duck, however, there is one difference. It shares the balloon principle, because its body will not sink when it stands still, whereas the aeroplane will fall unless it is constantly urged forward. The duck is lighter than its bulk of water, as the balloon is lighter than the air, and it is of air. To call an aeroplane a flying machine is therefore exactly the same as to call a boat a swimming machine (keeping in mind the swimming of the duck and neglecting that of fishes and of human beings).

"Your husband might have a little solid food directly he begins to mend," said the doctor.

"But how am I to tell?" inquired the anxious wife.

"The convalescent stages of influenza," replied the doctor, "are marked by a slight irritability." The next day he called, and found his patient a wife radiant with health. "When I refused to order him steak and onions," she explained, "he came into the kitchen and smashed fourteen soup plates and a dinner service; so, of course, I sent out for steak at once."

SPRING IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

MAKE THE USE OF A TONIC MEDICINE A NECESSITY

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an all year round tonic blood-builder, and nerve-restorer. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the long winter months. There is no other season when the blood is really so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these Pills helps to make new, rich, red blood. In the spring one feels tired and weak—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills help to develop the appetite, tone the stomach and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring when the blood is full of impurities, and it is at this time that the blood most seriously needs attention. To improve and fortify the blood is the first step in the treatment of the blood.

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"I see one of your battlepieces reported fast in the mud," "Wait, I was just thinking that a ship fast in the mud ought to be a record-breaker on the open sea."

Minard's Liniment for sale everywhere
Mrs. Blenkinsop—"Poor man, perhaps you have seen better days!"
Tramp—"Yes, indeed, lady, I never tasted such soup as yours before, Filigande Blenkinsop."

These Pills Cure Rheumatism—To the many who suffer from rheumatism a trial of Minard's Vegetable Pills is recommended. They have pronounced action upon the liver and kidneys and regulate the action of these organs as well as the alimentary tract. They may be taken according to directions and need not be accompanied by any other medicine.

Every woman's aim in life is to boss some man.

I consider MINARD'S LINIMENT the BEST Liniment in use. I got my foot badly jammed lately. I bathed it well with MINARD'S LINIMENT and it was as well as ever next day.
Yours very truly,
T. G. McMULLIN.

"Don't I give you all the money you need?" her husband complained.
"Yes," he replied, "but you told me you were married that you would give me all I wanted."

Shiloh's Cure
Quickly stops coughs, cures colds, kills the throat and lungs. 25 cents

"Ere, Bill, won't the matter? You are lookin' worried."

"I'm long have you been at it?" "I begin to mow."

"Trial is incentive." To those who suffer from rheumatism, indigestion, rheumatism or any ailment arising from derangement of the digestive system, a trial of Minard's Vegetable Pills is recommended. The result will be another customer for the excellent medicine. No effort is their action that many cases can certainly be traced to their use where other pills have proved ineffective.

The great detective climbed through the kitchen window, followed by his faithful ally.

"Ah," he exclaimed, surveying the situation, "I find that his wife is away!"

"And how long has she been away?" "She has been in the house for thirty days, and left them here to wash when she came home—same as we all do. Simply put it in the words of my dear fellow—simplest thing in the world."

Japan seems to be the only country in the world that has never been really conquered. It has withstood the centuries carry a stiff upper lip.

Two centuries ago a great Chinese expedition under Empress Kungli came to take to the Japanese Island. Ten only of the 100,000 were sent back to tell the tale.—New York Press.

"What do you think of the idea of an extra session of congress?"

"Well," replied Farmer Cornstossel, "I think it is like the idea of a newspaper. They ain't enough in 'em to justify the holdin'!"—Washington Star.

Changed His Mind
"Clarice, darling," remarked Archibald to the 150 lbs. of sweet femininity which nestled against his manly form, "now that we are engaged, my angel, we should have no secrets from each other."

"Well, then, my sweetest, do please tell me how old you are."

"With pleasure," answered the fair young thing. "But first dearest, please tell me just how much you get week."

Archibald did a bit of rapid head work. His mind ran ahead into the future.

"Forgive me, Clarice, darling," he exclaimed, as he softly pressed a kiss on her snow-white forehead. "It was none of my business to ask such a question."

The grain, as a unit of measurement, was introduced by Henry III, who ordered that wheat should be gathered from the middle of the head to be the standard of weight.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY
A Painter to Housekeepers
Look at the financial side of Zam-Buk. A housewife in a room, the store, or the workshop, a sore which is untended, results, say, in the loss of a day's work. The loss of a day's work for a day or two. What does that mean when pay day comes round? Zam-Buk insures you against that loss! A little Zam-Buk applied to such an injury prevents all danger of infection, takes out the smarting and heals.

Heads of families know how costly dandruff is. A good remedy is a preventive line. A box of Zam-Buk in the home is so all-round useful. It cures itching, dandruff, ringworm, eczema, ringworm, etc. Zam-Buk is without a peer.

Dangers of Shaving.—You get a cut at the barber's shop. A little Zam-Buk applied to the wound prevents all danger. If any ailment has been contracted, Zam-Buk cures. Mr. George Hobbs, 105 Manitoba Street, St. Thomas, Ontario, says: "I contracted barber's rash, and the whole of my face broke out in one mass of red, watery pimples and sores. These spread to the other parts of my face, and I was almost covered with running sores. How far the disease would have spread I do not know. I applied this balm, and in a short time Zam-Buk effected a cure."

Zam-Buk Soap is as good as the balm, but in a different way. Washed with it, the face breaks out in itching and disease germs lying upon it are killed. Mothers will find it unequalled for baby balm.

Zam-Buk Balm and Zam-Buk Soap are sold by all druggists and stores and are each in the balm and 25c. balm for the soap.

"So your debts are bothering you?" "Yes."

"Borrowing the flour because you can't pay 'em?" "Yes."

"'Cause I can't make 'em any larger?" "Yes."

TRACES OF SPLENDOR.
Cities Older Than King Solomon's Time Uncovered in Africa.

The remains of a splendid city which flourished some 2,000 years before the Christian era have been discovered near Meroe, the ancient capital of Ethiopia in northeastern Africa. The excavations are under the patronage of the Countess of Derby, of England, and among the places so far brought to light are ruins of a great number of the city.

Prof. A. H. Sayce, the British antiquary, identifies as the Tale of the Sun, mentioned by Herodotus as having stood in a green meadow outside the ancient metropolis.

Although there are at present no cities of any consequence in Abyssinia, abundant evidence is being brought to light that in the past a grand and extensive civilization spread itself all over that side of the African continent, doubtless long before and during Solomon's time.

The fabulous mines of Ophir and the legendary riches of Sheba bear testimony to the general state of wealth and culture in that far distant age.

According to Prof. Sayce the city when being uncovered was situated on the banks of the Nile, between the fifth and sixth cataracts, where there was a long stretch of navigable water, and the ruins were found on the north side of the Nile, with the land rising half a mile of the river, a stone city existed until the end of the fourth dynasty, A.D., when it was destroyed by the kings of Axum.

One great wall of stone, four yards thick, 12 feet high and 150 yards in length, still stands. The great Temple of Amun, situated against this wall to the east, while eastward in the valley are tombs stretching back beyond 2500 B.C.

The Temple of Amun rose nearly three times as high as the temple of the Egyptian style of architecture. The approach to the sanctuary was through a long colonnade of papyrus. The western end were three shrines, the high altar of dark sandstone, the floor of which was paved with black granite. The Egyptian deities were carved upon it, and at the foot were a number of tablets of terra cotta and an inscribed tablet.

What a Pencil Will Do.
An English statistician was asked how many words could be written with an English lead pencil, and, being assured that he had never bought a lead pencil and Scott's Imitation, he proceeded to copy the latter on a piece of paper. He wrote 10,000 words and then was obliged to stop, for the pencil was so short that he could not use it. A German statistician who heard of this experiment was interested, and because the lead in the pencil was not used on the work, and therefore he bought a pencil and wrote a long German novel. When the pencil was so short that he could not handle it with his finger he attached it to a holder. He said that he wrote with it 400,000 words. Possibly, however, the pencil was longer or the lead in it was of a more durable quality.

Housing in Manchester.
The municipality of Manchester, England, has taken hold of the housing problem in an active way by providing a large number of houses for the poor. At the present time there is under construction a group of 100 new ten-room houses, which the corporation is building. Each house has a separate entrance, kitchen, bathroom, water supply and gas meter. The furniture will include a range, cupboard, coal bunker, washstand, lockers, bed and bath, chairs, table, mirror and house-cleaning outfit. The charge for the "average" house is 9d per night or 5s 3d per week. It is expected that the investment will pay at the rate of four and one-half per cent.

Barmalids Scarce.
South Australia is suffering from a barmalid famine. Two years ago barmalids were abolished in that State by act of Parliament. No more should be legally engaged, but those already employed could remain on condition that they registered themselves. There are now only 400 of them left, and the competition for their services is such that their wages have jumped from 2s 6d to 3s 2d a week. The hotels are now employing barmalids for a considerable charge for the worst in their receipts.

Honors Mary of Scots.
Theodore Napier, who for fifty-eight years has taken a wreath from Edinburgh, has been awarded the honor of Scots' execution at Forth, near Peterborough, attended for the same purpose recently in full Highland costume. On this occasion, however, he was refused admission to the castle by the occupier of the fortress, which it forms part. Not to be altogether outdone, Mr. Napier left the wreath on an adjacent ledge.

Australians Easy.
A remarkable story is to hand of an immense import trade in bogus currencies which has been flourishing in Australia. According to the story told by the owner of the business, hundreds of violins, saws, chisels, boomerangs, aboriginal weapons and idols made in Germany and Japan, Birmingham, have been imported into Australia and sold at high prices to the unsuspecting public.

Incorporate Blairmore

We feel like apologising to our readers for again referring to the incorporation of Blair-more into a town, but as this is a subject of vital importance to all its ratepayers, we are sure that the matter is deserving of all the space that we have already devoted to it and that it
merits still further reference.

A few months ago when this subject was introduced by us and when we advocated through this medium the incorporation of Blairmore into a town, we met with some opposition. This was only what we expected from the fact that the matter is deserving of all the space that we have already devoted to it and that it
merits still further reference.

We must admit that the verbal responses that we immediately received were numerous and gratifying in the extreme.
The opposition made their defense, and they, of course, had a perfect right to do so if they saw fit. But new converts are being added every week, and we firmly believe that when it comes to casting the vote a large majority will decide in favor of incorporation.

The rate-payers are hereby reminded of the meeting which will be held in Mr. Budd's hall at 8 p.m. on Friday, for the purpose of authorizing the taking of the census with a view to incorporate Blairmore
into a town.

It pays richly to patronize
home industry.

We wonder what would the late John Alexander Dowie, or Elijah III, as he was wont to style himself, think of the city of Zion if he knew that they are now selling out, the creditors realizing only 12.8 cents on the dollar.

The first issue of that paper appeared on April 16, 1898. We hope that good times will soon return to Moyle and that Brother Smyth's publication will again adorn our desk.

We should bear in mind in buying our goods that we owe it to the community in which we live to do everything we can in every way possible that will be to its advantage. Our neighbor's prosperity means a great deal more to us than someone's who lives elsewhere.

Those who would not be in favor of having a nuisance
ground for village purposes, are far from what would be best citizens for a healthy and vigorous community. And one who would object to such a needful thing as a dumping and nuisance ground, is not even worthy of having his name attached to the road leading thereto.

A smile as broad as their fears and an appreciation as warm as their hearts must have gone forth from the members of the Burnaby Municipal council, on Friday last,
when it became known to them that the B. C. government had accepted their wishes so far as the dismissal of Moses B.
Cotsworth, their erstwhile auditor, was concerned.

We most certainly differ with those who claim that the Bible and religion are the cause of there being so many fools and maniacs in the world. If the teachings of the bible were more strictly adhered to and more religion practised more,
the world and those in it would be considerably better, and false doctrines and false prophets would be greatly lessened.

We have just received from The Moral and Social Reform
Council of Canada, Toronto,
Ont., a small book entitled,
"Judge Robson on Segregation or Toleration of Vice." It contains a report of the Social Vice Commission, concluded at Winnipeg, on January 11, 1911.
The book is in complete agreement with the moral conditions of the present capital, it corroborates
the charges made by Rev. Dr.
J. G. Shaver and plainly outlines the law governing such conditions, stating "That law does not authorize anything but entire suppression of the offence." We commend this report to the thoughtful person of those whose duty it is to attend to such matters.

The Blairmore Board of Trade heard with regret on Monday evening last, of the resignation of Mr. George Bradley senior, an old and sedate member of that body. Many of his political friends had long cherished the hope of seeing him occupying a seat on the opposition side of the house at Ottawa and leading the Conservatives on to victory in Southern Alberta, should "Honest" John Herron ever see fit to move to another constituency, but Mr. Bradley's resignation from the Board of Trade must surely be an indication that he does not aspire to any political honors and that he would not participate in such active political service as stated above. Consequently, the carefully laid plans of his political friends have been frustrated, and the Conservatives are doomed to sudden and severe disappointment.

Foiled Again

A black moving object on the side attention of Frank Hinds and secured guns and ammunition and slily started off to climb the hill north of the town to puncture this black object and to slay a black bear. When within a few yards of the object of their great attraction and close scrutiny,

they were sorely disappointed

TOM AND GLEN.

Wallace and Campbell are inseparable in Commons at Ottawa.

Of all the friendships which form between members of Parliament none is so firm, none so constant, as that between Glen Campbell and Tom Wallace. Glen Campbell, of Dauphin, Man., and Captain Tom Wallace, of Centre York. Compared with them David and Johnnies were hostiles, Damon and Pythias merely acquaintances. If you meet "Glen" alone in the corridor, you may be sure that "Tom" is just around the corner, and if you see "Tom" scuttling rapidly along it is a safe guess that he is looking for "Glen."

Extremes meet in these two. The only point they have in common is that they are both Conservatives, the resemblance ends there. Glen Campbell is one of the biggest men you ever saw. It isn't only his height, though that must be verging on six feet six inches, but he is big, very big everywhere, big and black and thick, bone and muscle and all that implies. The only thing he can read of anything on four legs, that he is one of the most expert broncho busters in the West. The son of a Hudson Bay Co. factor—it is not necessary to specify his father's nationality—and his father was a great hunter, and the most whole of his life in the sun and wind of the open prairies. He came to the country with him, and he can tell you stories of the brave days of old that somebody will some day make into a book. He is only forty-eight years old after all, but he has lived every minute of his life. In '86 he was at Batoche, and though only a youngster then, did a couple of things that they still talk about. Some way you are sorry that Glen Campbell ever came to Ottawa; he is the type of man we need on the frontier. He is a bit out of his element on the floor of the House.

Then there's "Tom" Wallace, Cap'n Tom Wallace, begging his pardon. Everybody in Toronto knows him. Physically he is almost the antithesis of his mountainous friend. A whole lot of Mr. Wallace's stature grows sideways now that he isn't wearing. He is as fair as Glen Campbell is black, he is as much of a city man as Glen Campbell is of the prairie. But just because "Tom" is a little given to girl, now in these piping times, it does not do to forget that he, too, has heard bullets sing, with the nasty snarl that means business. He has a medal that says Driffield and Peardberg on it, though he doesn't talk about it much.

The great sensation that Parliament Hill has seen in Tom and Glen solemnly marching up the broad walk decorated with their medals. One of those true cow-puncher variety. One of your hats has always been an outstanding feature of Mr. Campbell, and now Captain Wallace had caught it, too. If the Western man decided that he'll be as good as Glen Campbell, he is wondering how long it would be before a Captain Wallace sent home for his South African star.

Minard's Liniment Cure Dandruff
"Bridget," said Mrs. Hiram Ofter, "on my way home just now I saw that policeman who was in the kitchen with you and for last evening, and I took occasion to speak to him." "Oh, sure, that's all right, ma'am. O'm not jealous."

Why suffer from corns when they can be painlessly rubbed out by using Minard's Little Cure.

A little boy who was very fond of chess, and who liked to have the gas lit when he went to bed, was one night asked by his father whether he would have some of the gas when he went to bed. He replied, after some hesitation, "Tommy (his little brother) can have the gas lit, and I'll have the chess."

Imitation Cough Cures
Is an Imitation Cough Medicine Good Enough for Your Children?

When you are sick and send for the doctor you don't want him to send a young medical student to be his in the office. You would rather have the young fellow experiment on somebody else.

No more do you want imitations of the medicine you know to be of proven value in the cure of such diseases. The remarkable success of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the cure of all croup, bronchitis and colds has proven too great a temptation to imitators. They expect you to take chances with their medicines because the price is a few cents less.

Imitations are never sold on merit, but depend on the merit of the article they imitate. You don't want to be experimented on and for this reason will insist on seeing the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, on the bottle you buy.

As it is made of simple ingredients of proven value it is well suited for use as a treatment for children. That it is effective in the cure of croup, bronchitis, whooping cough and the most severe colds and colds is attested by its many years of continuous success and enormous sales. 25 cents at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Saved Mr. Lloyd George's Life.

Forty-seven years ago an aged Welsh doctor was called to a little country cottage where a baby, only twelve months old, was lying dangerously ill. The mother, who had only just lost her husband, was distracted. "Save my child," she cried. "I want him to be a man who will do something for his country." Ultimately the crisis passed, and the doctor was able to tell the mother that the child would live. Recently the doctor paid a visit to the Gallery of the House of Commons, and looking down at the Treasury Bench, saw his old patient—the Chancellor of the Exchequer. When the story was repeated to Mr. Lloyd George, he said: "It is perfectly true. My mother has told me the incident many a time."

An Archaeological Find.

Excitement was intense in the district near Thornbury Bay recently, when it became known that the efforts to regain the treasure lost when the Spanish Armada galleon sank there in 1588, had been partly successful. Amongst the many interesting relics reclaimed were several with hilt encrusted with shells, numerous silver and copper coins, a cosmetic pot, stone cannon balls, and lead bullets. The wrecked galleon was supposed to have treasure to the value of thirty million on board, with the royal crown, which was to be used for the intended coronation of Philip II., King of England. It is hoped to recover this crown before King George's coronation.

A Child Wonder.

A little girl who possesses a voice so perfect that she may easily be called a prima donna, is to be introduced shortly to the concert platform by Miss Amy Sherwin. The child, aged eleven, was heard by Miss Sherwin singing carols outside a house in Hampstead. The child was endeavoring to collect money for the poor, or a surprise Christmas present. Struck by the wonderful beauty of her voice, Miss Sherwin decided to give her a spot to take the child and train her. In memory of the curious meeting Miss Sherwin has decided that the child shall be professionally known as Stella Carol.

Bomb In Street.

A great sensation was created in the Calculus street recently, when a bomb was flung at Mr. Cowie, the executive engineer of the Bengal Public Works Department. Happily Mr. Cowie saw the action and with great presence of mind stretched out his hand to catch the bomb. The explosion, which was much talked of as a good plan for setting off.

"A monkey has four hands," remarked the zoologist.
"Yes, replied Cardwell. "It's a shame to see the animal neglect its opportunities. It could play as entire game of bridge all by itself."

SUFFERED SINCE HER CHILDHOOD
BUT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS MADE MRS. LAPRAIRIE A NEW WOMAN

Nipissing Lady gives an experience that should prove of immense value to the suffering women of Canada.

Laprairieville, Nipissing District, (Special.)—Having been afflicted with various forms of kidney illness she was a child, Mrs. O. Laprairie is a well known and successful business woman. She has proved that no case of Kidney Trouble is too severe or too long standing for Dodd's Kidney Pills to cure.

Interviewed regarding her cure, she said: "I was twelve years of age I have suffered from Kidney Disease. I was always tired, my back was sore and I always had a sharp pain in the top part of my head. My heart was very weak."

"Hearing of Dodd's Kidney Pills, I gave them a trial, and now I feel like a new woman. Thousands of Canadian men and women are feeling just as Mrs. Laprairie does. If it had not been for them—just because they have cured their kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills. For the kind you should be the mainpring of life. If they are clogged or out of order the whole body is wrong. Dodd's Kidney Pills will purify the kidneys in good working order."

A FORGOTTEN REVOLT.

Seventy Years Ago, There Was a Rebellion in Lanark.

"Indeed," said my mother, who was visiting me in the West, "your quiet rebellion out here was not the first Canadian rebellion among the settlers; and the first one was about land, like the one out here."

"There was a rebellion in Ontario when we settled there, and one that as far as I know, was never written up nor anything published about it, although there must be records available somewhere. I will tell about the militia were called out and shots were exchanged, and at least one man was killed."

"I was but a child, seventy or more years ago, when it happened and all I know is hearsay from my father, who was one of the militia called out as well as being in close touch with the people who rebelled. They were called the Ballinaghalles, and they had been deported from Ireland for some unruly conduct, and were given land in the county of Lanark, chiefly in Huntley, Ramsay and Fitzroy townships. They took the land, and cleared acres of land, a year's provisions, some tools and implements and free passage to and from their homes. They had been doing in the old country the Government there was apparently not at all interested in."

"They settled on the land all right, but many of them merely camped and did not go to the big towns and stores ran low; then they sold their tools and such. I remember well seeing the Ballinaghalles, saws and hoes in many houses for years after the people were forgotten or had settled down like other farmers and their identity had been lost. But that time they made quite a name for themselves and quite a scare for the settlers, for they took the militia to the crazy notion that now they were far enough away from England they would not collect money for themselves. So they raised a form of rebellion."

"They were camped at the site where now is the town of Almonte, then called Shipman's Mills, and Shipman was the leader of the militia when they were 'led out' from the trouble. The militia met them at their camp and fired upon them and at one man, named Curran, was killed. Some pacifying was done, by the priests I think, and the matter was dropped. Most of those that had caused the trouble went to the States—that was the first of the rash of the States that in those days took the place of the present rush to the Canadian West. The militia to the States, which was much talked of as a good plan for setting off."

"The men who went away were soon settled by others—but many of them were good quiet people and settled down where the others left and soon all was forgotten. But for the time being it was quite a rebellion and a scare to the people. The militia might have made much more trouble. As it was the affair was serious enough to the militia, the settlers then in the country, and it seems strange to me that no written records of the matter have ever to have reached the public."—George R. Belton, in Canadian Century.

Didn't Know Him.

Rodolphe Forget, who sits for Charlevoix, is seldom seen about the precincts. Recently the financier paid one of his fleeting visits to the House, and it so happened that the reporter, who was not on duty at the entrance to the Chamber, his place being taken by a substitute, was the first to see the man for whom the messenger caught him by the shoulder and exclaimed excitedly: "You can't be the man for whom I am a member."

The Montreal broker smiled, and then, as he took the other guard, but found his way barred by the stout arm of the faithful keeper of the House. "You must work!" "Bob" Bickerdike how into sight, and Mr. Forget hailed him triumphantly. "Look here, Bickerdike," he said, "come here and identify me."

"You can't be the man for whom I am a member," exclaimed "Bob" sweetly, as they both passed into the Chamber. "He has only been employed here since 1898!"—The Mac, in Saturday Night.

Miss Roddick's Embargo.

Miss Emma Roddick is one of the prime movers in the series of schemes which were carried out in Montreal within the past year to make the lot of children in the crowded, poorer districts of the city a little better. She is one of the most active workers in the Parks and Playgrounds Association.

She was at work day after day, a free slide for children on the lower slope of Mount Royal, and Miss Roddick was a little group of newspaper men the other day.

"You see," she remarked, "we supply the slides for them and they are allowed perfect freedom while they are on the slide. They can enjoy themselves as much as they like."

"There is one thing, however, that we make it an absolute rule that no child must be allowed to get off the slide. It is a rule which is strictly enforced. 'What is it,' politely inquired one of the scribers.

"The child is under any circumstances allowed to descend reciprocally at the slides," Miss Roddick solemnly announced.

Lots of Animals.

In Australia there are only 4,500,000 inhabitants. Yet the Australians run a business in the sale of kangaroos, and own 87,000,000 sheep—and no other country comes within 10,000,000 of this number.

GALA DAY FOR ODD FELLOWS

Blairmore Lodge, No. 68, Celebrated the 92nd Anniversary of the Order

ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON LAST.

Held Public Parade and Attended Service in Central Baptist Church

Sunday last was a big day for Blairmore Lodge, No. 68
Independent Order of Odd Fellows. It was the day on which this lodge celebrated the ninety-second anniversary of the introduction of Odd Fellowship
into America.

About 2 o'clock in the afternoon the brethren assembled in their neat and commodious lodge room at 800 Victoria Street. Here the members enjoyed themselves in pleasant conversation and greeted a large contingent of smiling Odd Fellows from Coleman, who were conveyed here in rigs and busses to participate in this event, thereby returning the compliment paid them by Blair-more Odd Fellows the preceding Sunday. After clothing themselves in the proper regalia and badges, and after the marshall, Bro. F. W. Doubt succeeded in getting the members in line according to their rank and station, over fifty Odd Fellows, representatives of the greatest fraternal and beneficial order in all the world, left the hall and, headed by Bro.
Doubt and Mr. W. J. Chestock, band master of Frank, the procession proceeded up Victoria Street as far as Third avenue,
then back to Ninth avenue,
across to State Street and on to the Central Baptist church
when the pastor, Rev. J. F.
Hunter, who is also Noble Grand of Blairmore lodge, delivered an eloquent sermon based on the words: "Am I my brother's keeper?" and "Who is my neighbor?" The speaker pointed out many of the ideals of the order and showed that true Oddfellowship meant love and veneration for He Who rules on high, and a regard and protection for mankind and a keeper from all the evil snares which so cunningly tend to entrap and drag men down, and that as Latimer said in his sermon before Edward IV, in 1550, "He is my neighbor who needs me, and I am his if I act
the part of a neighbor."

After the service in the church was over, the procession wended its way up State Street,
along Sixth avenue to Victoria Street and back to the hall where delectable edibles and improvised speeches engaged the attention of about seventy Odd Fellows and Rebekahs
until about 6.30 p. m. when a pleasant gathering dispersed.

Meeting of Blair- more Board of Trade

The Blairmore Board of Trade met in Mr. W. J. Budd's new building on Monday evening.
There were present: W. A. Beebe, vice-president; T. B. George, secretary; H. E. Lyon, D. A. Sinclair, L. Dutil, I. Loughheed, T. Frayer,
R. M. Brisco, W. J. Bartlett, W.
A. Malcolm, J. Menard and J. D.
S. Barrett. In the absence of the president the vice-president occupied the chair. That was the first time that building was used and the members recognized the honor done them by permitting them to hold the first meeting therein and showed their appreciation by smoking strictly first-class cigars.
C. Hiscocks was elected a member of the board.

The following resolution was read, adopted, and a copy of same was ordered to be sent to the Lethbridge Board of Trade:

Your sub committee beg to report that the following recommendations be forwarded to the West ern Associated Board of Trades:

1. That when any application is made to the government for railway charters that such government request a deposit of 5 per cent of the total cost of construction of such, railroad before a charter is granted to the applicant.
2. Reciprocal demurrage charge on cars between shippers
and transportation companies.
3. The amending of the present coal laws in view of reducing leaving charges.
4. The enactment of legislation in regard to the mining of clay.
5. The abolition of the deadly level crossing in adopting the Lancaster bill.
6. The enforcement of existing laws in regard to settlement of labor disputes.
7. The requesting of the Canadian Pacific Railway to carry second class mail on their local trains.

(Signed)

L. DUTIL
J. A. McDONALD

A communication was read from the Calgary Board of Trade asking the local board to assist them in getting wholesale merchants to sell goods only to retail merchants.
It was moved by D. A. Sinclair and seconded by J. D. S. Barrett that the Blairmore board approve of the action taken by the retail section of the Calgary board in condemning the action of some of the wholesale merchants in selling their wares at wholesale price to those who are not engaged in retail business. This was carried by a large vote.

T. Frayer moved and H. E.
Lyon seconded that the government be asked to send an engineer
over the ground between Blairmore
and the South Fork, and to mark out a course for a good wagon road —carried.

Instruments for the town band
occupied a great deal of attention.
T. Frayer offered to give a big drum, R. M. Brisco offered a small drum and W. A. Beebe offered the use of five good instruments. A committee was appointed to raise sufficient funds to purchase the necessary instruments.

A touch of rheumatism, or a twinge

Killed at Crow's Nest

An Italian named G. De Marco, was instantly killed at Crow's Nest on Saturday evening last. It appears that seven holes were loaded and six were successfully fired, but the seventh blast scattered the rocks in all directions with the result that a sharp-edged stone flew towards the unfortunate victim, De Marco, who was standing a long distance off and struck him in the head, pierced his skull and caused instant death. This occurred at 8.30 o'clock and was to be the last shot for the day and for the week. The dead body was taken to Michel where it was interred on Monday.

Coroner Disney held an inquest at Coleman, on Monday, when the following verdict was rendered: "We find that G. De Marco was killed by a blast of rock while engaged at his work as quarryman at the Summit Lime Works, on April 29th. We consider his death was purely accidental and we attach no blame to anyone."
